

Which one of the three figures below best represents the depth of the atmosphere (99% of air molecules) relative to the size of the solid earth?

